   Wash your hands before you eat.

   Buckle your seat belt in a car.

   Drive slow near a school.

   Pay for things you take from a store.

2. Who must follow this law? “Stop at a stop sign.”

   Only one class. Everyone in the town. Only the police.

   Only grown-ups at work.

3. Who must follow this law? “Pay for things you take from a store.”

   Everyone in the town. Only children. Only the mayor. Only the store owner.

4. Why do we have this law? “Drive slow near a school.”

   So cars get new tires. So drivers use less gas. So the school stays quiet.

   So children stay safe.

5. Why do we have this law? “Stop when a school bus has red lights flashing.”

   So the bus can go faster.

   So the driver can rest.

   So children can get on and off safely.

   So the bus stays clean.

6. Why do we have this law? “Pay for things you take from a store.”

So the store owner gets paid.

So the store looks full.

So the toys stay shiny.

So the store opens late.

7. Which one is a law?

Stop at a stop sign. Raise your hand to talk. Put your toys away.

Share the crayons.

8. Which one is a law?
