Character Point of View

Grade 3 Reading Worksheet

Name _____ Date _____

Circle the answer.

READ THIS FIRST

The Old Treehouse

Dad stood under the oak tree with a notebook. "This treehouse is getting wobbly," he said. "This summer, let's take it down and build a new one."

Carmen clapped her hands. She was ten and had big plans. "Can the new one have a rope bridge?" she asked. "And a window that opens? And room for a sleeping bag?" She grabbed Dad's pencil and started sketching.

Diego did not clap. He looked up at the crooked little house. He remembered the day Grandpa built it, when Diego was only four. Grandpa had let him hammer the very last nail. The wooden sign over the door still said "DIEGO'S FORT" in Grandpa's wobbly letters.

"I like it the way it is," Diego said quietly. He kicked at a pine cone.

Carmen rolled her eyes. "It's tiny," she said. "Our knees touch the roof."

That night, Diego could not sleep. He stood at his window and stared at the dark shape in the tree. He thought about how Grandpa's hands had smelled like sawdust.

In the morning, Dad found him at the kitchen table. Diego had drawn a plan of his own. It showed a big new treehouse with a rope bridge. Over the door hung an old wooden sign.

Dad looked at the drawing for a long time. "Grandpa would like this," he said.

Carmen read the sign and nodded slowly. "Okay," she said. "But I get the window seat."

1. What is Carmen's point of view about building a new treehouse?
   - She thinks it is a waste of time.
   - She wants to keep the old one.
   - She is worried it will be wobbly.
   - She is excited to build a bigger one.

2. What is Diego's point of view at first?
   - He wants a rope bridge most of all.
   - He does not care either way.
   - He wants to keep the old treehouse.
   - He thinks the old one is too small.

3. Why does Diego feel this way about the old treehouse?
   - He wants to sleep in it.
   - Carmen won't let him help plan.
   - Grandpa built it with him.
   - He is afraid of climbing high.

4. Which clue shows Diego is upset about Dad's idea?
   - He sat at the kitchen table.
   - He looked at Dad's notebook.
   - He drew a plan of his own.
   - He spoke quietly and kicked a pine cone.

5. Which detail does Carmen give to support her view?
"I like it the way it is."
"DIEGO'S FORT"
"Our knees touch the roof."
"Grandpa would like this."

6. Who is telling this story?
Dad
Carmen
Diego
a narrator who is not a character

7. How does Diego's plan respect his own point of view?
It keeps Grandpa's old sign on the new treehouse.
It lets Carmen draw the whole plan herself.
It asks Dad not to build anything at all.
It keeps the old treehouse and adds a bridge.

8. What is Carmen's point of view at the end?
She decides to keep the old house.
She agrees to Diego's plan.
She no longer wants a window.
She refuses to use the old sign.

9. Dad says, "Grandpa would like this." What does Dad think of Diego's plan?
He thinks Carmen should draw it.
He thinks it is too big to build.
He thinks it honors Grandpa.
He thinks Grandpa wanted the old one kept.

10. "He looked up at the crooked little house." What does crooked mean?
painted bright very tall bent, not straight brand new

Scan to get this marked free. No screen time for your child.
Print it · do it in pencil · scan it · PencilGo picks the next sheet.

Character Point of View

Answer Key - Grade 3 Reading Worksheet

Circle the answer.

READ THIS FIRST

The Old Treehouse

Dad stood under the oak tree with a notebook. "This treehouse is getting wobbly," he said. "This summer, let's take it down and build a new one."

Carmen clapped her hands. She was ten and had big plans. "Can the new one have a rope bridge?" she asked. "And a window that opens? And room for a sleeping bag?" She grabbed Dad's pencil and started sketching.

Diego did not clap. He looked up at the crooked little house. He remembered the day Grandpa built it, when Diego was only four. Grandpa had let him hammer the very last nail. The wooden sign over the door still said "DIEGO'S FORT" in Grandpa's wobbly letters.

"I like it the way it is," Diego said quietly. He kicked at a pine cone.

Carmen rolled her eyes. "It's tiny," she said. "Our knees touch the roof."

That night, Diego could not sleep. He stood at his window and stared at the dark shape in the tree. He thought about how Grandpa's hands had smelled like sawdust.

In the morning, Dad found him at the kitchen table. Diego had drawn a plan of his own. It showed a big new treehouse with a rope bridge. Over the door hung an old wooden sign.

Dad looked at the drawing for a long time. "Grandpa would like this," he said.

Carmen read the sign and nodded slowly. "Okay," she said. "But I get the window seat."

1. What is Carmen's point of view about building a new treehouse?
   - She thinks it is a waste of time.
   - She wants to keep the old one.
   - She is worried it will be wobbly.
   - She is excited to build a bigger one.

2. What is Diego's point of view at first?
   - He wants a rope bridge most of all.
   - He does not care either way.
   - He wants to keep the old treehouse.
   - He thinks the old one is too small.

3. Why does Diego feel this way about the old treehouse?
   - He wants to sleep in it.
   - Carmen won't let him help plan.
   - Grandpa built it with him.
   - He is afraid of climbing high.

4. Which clue shows Diego is upset about Dad's idea?
   - He sat at the kitchen table.
   - He looked at Dad's notebook.
   - He drew a plan of his own.
   - He spoke quietly and kicked a pine cone.

5. Which detail does Carmen give to support her view?
"I like it the way it is."
"DIEGO'S FORT"
"Our knees touch the roof."
"Grandpa would like this."

6. Who is telling this story?
Dad
Carmen
Diego
a narrator who is not a character

7. How does Diego's plan respect his own point of view?
It keeps Grandpa's old sign on the new treehouse.
It lets Carmen draw the whole plan herself.
It asks Dad not to build anything at all.
It keeps the old treehouse and adds a bridge.

8. What is Carmen's point of view at the end?
She decides to keep the old house.
She agrees to Diego's plan.
She no longer wants a window.
She refuses to use the old sign.

9. Dad says, "Grandpa would like this." What does Dad think of Diego's plan?
He thinks Carmen should draw it.
He thinks it is too big to build.
He thinks it honors Grandpa.
He thinks Grandpa wanted the old one kept.

10. "He looked up at the crooked little house." What does crooked mean?
painted bright very tall bent, not straight brand new