Fact, Opinion, and Evidence

Grade 3 Reading Worksheet - Challenge Me

Name _____ Date _____

Circle the answer.

READ THIS FIRST

Our Trip to the Statue of Liberty

The Statue of Liberty stands on Liberty Island in New York Harbor. It was a gift from the people of France to the United States. The statue was opened in 1886. My class read about it this year, and last spring my family finally went to see it.

First, here are some facts. The statue is about 151 feet tall from her feet to the top of the torch. She holds a torch in her right hand and a tablet in her left. The date July 4, 1776, is written on the tablet. Her crown has 25 windows.

The statue is made of thin copper sheets over an iron frame. When it was new, it was the shiny brown color of a penny. Over many years, the air and rain turned the copper green. That green coat actually protects the metal underneath.

There is no bridge to Liberty Island, so visitors ride a ferry boat. Our ferry left from Battery Park. The ride took about fifteen minutes.

Now here are my opinions. The ferry ride was the best part of the whole day. Wind blew on our faces, and the city looked tiny behind us. Seeing the statue get closer and closer was thrilling.

Next, we climbed the stairs inside the statue to the crown. There are 162 steps from the top of the base to the crown. The stairs are narrow and twist like a spring. My mom thought the climb was too tiring. I thought it was fun! Visitors need a special ticket to go up to the crown, so plan ahead.

The island has a museum about the statue. The original torch is on display inside. I think the museum is the most interesting part for kids.

Everyone should visit the Statue of Liberty at least once. Photos are nice, but they cannot show how big she really is. If you go, bring a jacket, because it is windy on the water.

1. Which sentence is a fact from the text?
   - The museum is the most interesting part for kids.
   - The statue was opened in 1886.
   - The ferry ride was the best part of the day.
   - Photos cannot show how big she really is.

2. Which sentence is an opinion about the ferry ride?
   - The ride took about fifteen minutes.
   - There is no bridge to Liberty Island.
   - Our ferry left from Battery Park.
   - The ferry ride was the best part of the whole day.

3. Why does the writer include the sentence 'Now here are my opinions'?
   - to start a list of steps for the climb
   - to explain why the statue turned green
   - to signal a switch from facts to opinions
   - to show that the next part is all true

4. How could a reader check that the statue is about 151 feet tall?
   decide if the statue looks big
   ask the writer's mom about the climb
   ride the ferry from Battery Park
   look it up on the park's website

5. Mom thought the climb was too tiring. The writer thought it was fun. What are these?
   The writer's is a fact, and Mom's is an opinion.
   Mom's is a fact, and the writer's is an opinion.
   Both are facts about the stairs.
   Both are opinions about the climb.

6. Which fact explains why the statue is green today?
   The statue has an iron frame inside.
   Air and rain turned the copper green.
   The statue was a gift from France.
   Her crown has twenty-five windows.

7. She holds a tablet in her left hand. What is a tablet in this text?
   a small computer with a screen
   a pill you take when you are sick
   a torch that holds a bright flame
   a flat slab with writing on it

8. Which sentence from the third paragraph is a fact scientists could check?
   Copper is the prettiest metal in the world.
   Green statues are the most beautiful kind.
   That green coat protects the metal underneath.
   The green color looks better than brown.

9. Which pair has two facts from the text?
   Her crown has 25 windows. The ferry ride was the best part.
   The original torch is inside. The museum is the most interesting part.
   Her crown has 25 windows. Visitors ride a ferry.
   Seeing the statue was thrilling. The stairs are narrow.

10. Why is 'Everyone should visit the Statue of Liberty at least once' an opinion?
    It can be proven in a history book.
    It names a real place in New York.
    It gives a number that can be measured.
    It tells what the writer believes people ought to do.

Scan to get this marked free. No screen time for your child.
Print it · do it in pencil · scan it · PencilGo picks the next sheet.

Fact, Opinion, and Evidence

Answer Key - Grade 3 Reading Worksheet - Challenge Me

Circle the answer.

READ THIS FIRST

Our Trip to the Statue of Liberty

The Statue of Liberty stands on Liberty Island in New York Harbor. It was a gift from the people of France to the United States. The statue was opened in 1886. My class read about it this year, and last spring my family finally went to see it.

First, here are some facts. The statue is about 151 feet tall from her feet to the top of the torch. She holds a torch in her right hand and a tablet in her left. The date July 4, 1776, is written on the tablet. Her crown has 25 windows.

The statue is made of thin copper sheets over an iron frame. When it was new, it was the shiny brown color of a penny. Over many years, the air and rain turned the copper green. That green coat actually protects the metal underneath.

There is no bridge to Liberty Island, so visitors ride a ferry boat. Our ferry left from Battery Park. The ride took about fifteen minutes.

Now here are my opinions. The ferry ride was the best part of the whole day. Wind blew on our faces, and the city looked tiny behind us. Seeing the statue get closer and closer was thrilling.

Next, we climbed the stairs inside the statue to the crown. There are 162 steps from the top of the base to the crown. The stairs are narrow and twist like a spring. My mom thought the climb was too tiring. I thought it was fun! Visitors need a special ticket to go up to the crown, so plan ahead.

The island has a museum about the statue. The original torch is on display inside. I think the museum is the most interesting part for kids.

Everyone should visit the Statue of Liberty at least once. Photos are nice, but they cannot show how big she really is. If you go, bring a jacket, because it is windy on the water.

1. Which sentence is a fact from the text?
   - The museum is the most interesting part for kids.
   - The statue was opened in 1886.
   - The ferry ride was the best part of the day.
   - Photos cannot show how big she really is.

2. Which sentence is an opinion about the ferry ride?
   - The ride took about fifteen minutes.
   - There is no bridge to Liberty Island.
   - Our ferry left from Battery Park.
   - The ferry ride was the best part of the whole day.

3. Why does the writer include the sentence 'Now here are my opinions'?
   - to start a list of steps for the climb
   - to explain why the statue turned green
   - to signal a switch from facts to opinions
   - to show that the next part is all true

4. How could a reader check that the statue is about 151 feet tall?
   - decide if the statue looks big
   - ask the writer's mom about the climb
   - ride the ferry from Battery Park
   - look it up on the park's website

5. Mom thought the climb was too tiring. The writer thought it was fun. What are these?
   The writer's is a fact, and Mom's is an opinion.
   Mom's is a fact, and the writer's is an opinion.
   Both are facts about the stairs.
   Both are opinions about the climb.

6. Which fact explains why the statue is green today?
   The statue has an iron frame inside.
   Air and rain turned the copper green.
   The statue was a gift from France.
   Her crown has twenty-five windows.

7. She holds a tablet in her left hand. What is a tablet in this text?
   a small computer with a screen
   a pill you take when you are sick
   a torch that holds a bright flame
   a flat slab with writing on it

8. Which sentence from the third paragraph is a fact scientists could check?
   Copper is the prettiest metal in the world.
   Green statues are the most beautiful kind.
   That green coat protects the metal underneath.
   The green color looks better than brown.

9. Which pair has two facts from the text?
   Her crown has 25 windows. The ferry ride was the best part.
   The original torch is inside. The museum is the most interesting part.
   Her crown has 25 windows. Visitors ride a ferry.
   Seeing the statue was thrilling. The stairs are narrow.

10. Why is 'Everyone should visit the Statue of Liberty at least once' an opinion?
    It can be proven in a history book.
    It names a real place in New York.
    It gives a number that can be measured.
    It tells what the writer believes people ought to do.