Numbered reading texts

Text 1: Maya dumped her backpack onto her bed. Papers, pencils and a squished banana tumbled out, but her library book was not there. She groaned.

Text 2: She checked under the bed and behind the desk. Then she glanced at the calendar. A red circle was drawn around today's date. Her heart sank.

Text 3: "Have you seen my library book?" Maya asked her little brother. Leo looked at the floor and did not answer.

Text 4: Maya followed Leo to his room. A blanket fort stood in the corner, held up by two chairs and a stack of books. A flashlight glowed inside.

Text 5: Inside the fort, Leo had a flashlight and her book. It was open to a page about sharks.

Text 6: "I just wanted to see the pictures," Leo said quietly. His cheeks turned pink. He held out the book.

Text 7: Maya almost yelled. Then she remembered how much she had loved shark books at his age.

Text 8: Maya sat down next to Leo. "Let us return it together," she said. "Then we can find you your own shark book."

Text 9: Leo crawled out of the fort so fast that both chairs toppled over. He grabbed his jacket.

Text 10: At the library, Leo picked a shark book of his own. He hugged it to his chest all the way home. He read it twice before bed.
