The Class Garden

Room 4 planted a garden behind the school. Every Monday a different pair of students watered the bean plants. When it was Eli's turn, it was raining, so he almost skipped it. Then he saw that the soil under the leaves was still dry. He carried a small can of water to each plant. By June the vines were tall, and the class picked a basket of beans to share.

1. Why did Eli water the plants even though it was raining? Use the story.

2. What problem did Eli notice, and how did he solve it?

1. Why did Eli water the plants even though it was raining? Use the story.

Model answer: He watered them because the soil under the leaves was still dry. (Any full sentence that restates the question and uses the story is right.)

2. What problem did Eli notice, and how did he solve it?

Model answer: He noticed dry soil under the leaves, and he solved it by watering each plant. (Any full sentence that restates the question and uses the story is right.)
