The New Neighbor

A girl named Lena moved in next door to Sam. She did not know anyone, and she sat alone on the school bus. Sam noticed that Lena was holding a book about frogs. He sat beside her and said, “I love frogs too!” They talked about frogs the whole ride. By the end of the week, Lena saved a seat for Sam.

1. How did Lena change from the beginning to the end of the story? Give a reason.

2. What can you learn from Sam about making a new friend? Explain how you know.

The New Neighbor

A girl named Lena moved in next door to Sam. She did not know anyone, and she sat alone on the school bus. Sam noticed that Lena was holding a book about frogs. He sat beside her and said, “I love frogs too!” They talked about frogs the whole ride. By the end of the week, Lena saved a seat for Sam.

1. How did Lena change from the beginning to the end of the story? Give a reason.

Model answer: At first Lena sat alone, but at the end she saved a seat for a friend, because Sam was kind to her. (Any full sentence that restates the question and uses the story is right.)

2. What can you learn from Sam about making a new friend? Explain how you know.

Model answer: You can find something you both like, because Sam talked about frogs with Lena and they became friends. (Any full sentence that restates the question and uses the story is right.)
